

BUSINESS & RESOURCE PLANNING – AN INTRODUCTION

In times where organisations are constantly reviewing how to lower costs, or undertaking cost cutting approaches, maximising the use of resources is essential.

In today's world of work striving to use every possible resource in the best possible way is how successful people in organisations sustain optimised results year on year. Through the process of analysis, strategic intent and business planning combined with cascading clarified and well understood objectives, people do their best with what is available to them. Understanding how to use key business tools that help formulate the business plan and the mechanisms implemented by everyone in the team or company increases the likelihood of sustainable success.

How You Benefit

- Utilise resources well
- Analyse the organisation to gain insight on available resource requirements
- Gain clarity about cascading strategic business plans into KPI's and objectives
- Create a business plan that makes sense for the current reality identifying where the business / team can improve how it works

Who Should Attend

Anyone in the organisation involved with the setting and implantation of business / team objectives and KPI's

Duration

1 Day

Participant Materials

A series of handouts and questionnaires will be provided to support this course before, during and for reference after attendance

Style

A practical workshop facilitated to ensure fullest participation and transfer of skills back into the workplace

Our emphasis is on the LEARNING and the workplace application of skills by the LEARNER

Let's get started!